KUHIO WINS ON ABOUT $1500

Party Fund Small, and Personal Expenses, Smaller Still, Paid by Himself

Delegate Kuhio was re-elected to Congress at an expenditure of less than $1500 of Republican campaign funds, and his personal expenses ran far below that figure. Such is the statement today of Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the Republican Territorial central committee, backed up by documentary proof.

Two years ago, according to figures spoken of at that time by those close to the campaign management, something like $10,000 was spent in the Territorial campaign. A. L. C. Atkinson was manager of the territorial campaign, and funds were plentiful.

This year Kuhio not only informed the committee that he wished to defray his own personal expenses, but he and all those connected with the management are declared to have confined the expenditure of funds to printing, transportation and such incidentals as cable and wireless messages. There was no "barrel" opened in the Republican Territorial campaign, say those in a position to know.

Chairman Shingle was found this morning in his office busy engaged in going through his bill and vouchers on the campaign, and at work on a statement which shows that hardly a tenth of the money used two years ago was spent this year.

"My requisition on the Republican territorial central committee will be about $1500," he said. "This includes a considerable printing bill, as a copy of the Republican platform was mailed to every citizen in the territory, at a cost of several hundred dollars. Another large item in the statement will be the expense of hiring a special train on the Hilo railroad to bring in 500 voters from Laupahoehoe and other precincts along the road to the meeting at Hilo. This was made necessary by the prince's sudden illness, which forced a cancellation of campaign dates. The figure I name above includes postage and small incidentals."

"Of course the delegate bore his personal expenses, as he informed the committee he preferred to do. He paid these from his own pocket. I expect to make public tomorrow a detailed statement."

Commenting on the election results throughout the territory, Mr. Shingle called attention to the fact that revised figures give Kuhio a majority of over 1200.

"The Republican party has been generally upheld throughout the territory," he said. "We have sixteen members of the house and nine of the

MCCANDLESS NOT DECIDED ON PROTEST

Wireless from West Hawaii
Urging Contest Is Not Definite

Nothing tangible has yet appeared on which L. L. McCandless believes he can base a contest of the election of delegate. He said this morning that there was no information of a definite nature which might form the groundwork of proceedings to void the election of Kuhio. The only protest made, as far as heard, was in West Hawaii, but it is not known whether this has relation to the election for delegate. From the fact that the message came to the Democratic candidate for delegate an inference, and nothing more, is drawn that it concerns him in whole or part. This is the message:

"Kualakua, November 6.—To McCandless, Honolulu.—From De Mello. Protest first and second precincts of West Hawaii."

De Mello was a candidate for representative. Possibly his message is a request to McCandless as leader to file a preliminary protest with the Secretary of Hawaii.

There is circumstantial evidence at Democratic headquarters indicating that the "endless chain" was used to some extent. This is a collection of specimen or sample ballots hand-marked for Republican candidates. At best, it is recognized, these papers would be only corroborative evidence of that particular kind of fraud.

In the first precinct of the fourth district, it is said, a native voter was detected putting his bunch of official ballots in his pocket as he advanced toward the voting compartments, and was compelled to deliver them up to the judge superintending the ballot boxes.

speeches and jolly the populace, and in between times talked hard for Republican candidates—this idle young gentleman is nothing if not buoyant of temperament.

Doyle and Chairman B. von Damm of the Republican county committee, were two of the hardest workers ever seen in captivity during the entire campaign. Von Damm worked so hard and put his soul into the campaign so deeply that along about nine o'clock last Tuesday night, when the ruins of the Republican party in this county were crashing about his ears and Republican candidates were going to glorious defeat, "Von" disappeared.

He "took it on the run," as the sports say, and he hasn't been seen since. He is in voluntary exile, although it certainly wasn't any failure of his in the working line that precipitated the calamity.

Returning to Mr. Doyle: He was as much interested in the campaign as anybody—more than a good many people, for he had taken a few chances with the goddess fortune in the way of those alluring "cinch bets." He was interested personally and financially, and besides, he considered that his professional reputation as a purveyor of publicity was at stake. He did his work up to the notch, but twenty publicity managers wouldn't have made much difference when the land began to slide.

Doyle stayed up at Party headquar-

STEP TAKEN FOR DEPARTMENT HERE SHAFTER HOSPITAL STATUS RAISED

Another important and significant step toward the ultimate raising of the Department of Hawaii to division rank is indicated by the change of status of the base hospital at Fort Shafter. Heretofore this institution has been under the chief surgeon of the Western Division, and has been practically administered from San Francisco; now it is to be known as a department hospital, entirely separated from division headquarters, and regulations for its government will be made by the department commander, subject, of course, to army regulations.

There is far more to this change, which is announced in G. O. No. 12, Department of Hawaii, than the mere change of name. Formerly the Shafter hospital was officially only a post affair, caring also for the sick of Ruger and De Russy. This meant that although all the serious cases from Schofield Barracks were taken there for treatment, the number of hospital corps men allowed was based on the number of troops at Fort Shafter alone. This meant that two non-commissioned officers and eight privates of the hospital corps were expected to look after a hospital which at times contained as many as

KUHIO WINS BY MORE THAN 1200

Delegate Kuhio has been reelected to Congress by a majority of 1263 votes over Link McCandless, according to an estimate made this morning by Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the Republican territorial central committee and in charge of the territorial campaign.

The figures are not yet entirely complete, because returns are still missing from one precinct on Hawaii and one precinct on Kauai. The Kauai precinct is Niihau, and Mr. Shingle yesterday received a telephone message from Mr. Francis Gay, who came to Honolulu from Kauai after the election, that all of the fifty votes would probably be for Kuhio. However, Chairman Shingle makes an estimate of 30 Kuhio votes on Niihau, added to the 199 majority on Kauai.

DEMOCRATIC BOARD HAS MUCH MONEY

Supervisors Will Be Able to Spend $50,000 a Month
for Two Years

With a Democratic mayor and only one Republican member on the board the Democratic supervisors-elect of Honolulu have been given a free rein in the handling of the municipal and county government, and will have ample opportunity to fulfill the pledges made by them on the stump during the campaign. In fact, their plans to the electorate have borne such fruit, in giving them absolute sway, that the general feeling is they can have no excuse for failure to live up to the pre-election promises made so enthusiastically.

One of these was that they would reduce the taxes, by cutting down the

TEDDY HOPES TO BE NAMED IN FOUR YEARS

Progressives Regard the Work
This Year as Educational and Preparatory

By C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

[Although the news below was written some days before the presidential election, it is apparent that Col. Roosevelt did not intend to let a defeat in 1912 stop his campaign for president in 1916.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—A campaign of education and organization whereby the Progressive element of the Republican party may control the national convention of 1916 began with the closing of the contest for president this year. Its purpose was to secure a majority of the regular delegates pledged to the nomination of Col. Roosevelt. It is intended henceforth to make the fight for supremacy within instead of outside the party.

For months before the Bull Moose movement blossomed out over night into a full-fledged flower it was known that Col. Roosevelt and his friends were planning to give him the Republican presidential nomination in 1916. It was then proposed that Senator La Follette should make the run this year and go down to defeat in his own way. When it became apparent that the senator would not be in the running either at Chicago or elsewhere the colonel could not restrain himself and hastily plunged into the controversy, shoving La Follette aside. By so doing he created dissension within the ranks of the Progressives, but he cared nothing for that. He invited rather than avoided dissension.

Soon after Col. Roosevelt's selection by the Bull Moose convention of August 5 he made the flat-footed announcement that he had no expectation of winning this year. He was looking ahead to 1916. He wanted to make the best possible fight and form

PASSENGERS SAVED FROM BIG VESSEL

Royal George Grounds in St.
Lawrence and Boats Rescued Those Aboard

(Associated Press Cable)

MONTREAL, Can., November 7.—The big passenger liner Royal George has grounded in the St. Lawrence river.

Four hundred passengers were saved amid sensational scenes. Fears were felt for the safety of the vessel and the boats were lowered at once. The passengers kept their heads and were taken off rapidly.

WAR DOESN'T INTERFERE WITH THE JOYS OF LIFE

MEXICO CITY, October 19.—Residents of the capital appear not to be greatly perturbed by the knowledge that a score of states are embarrassed by rebels. Society is looking forward with great interest to the opening of the opera season next month, and the devotees of the bullfight are displaying a keen interest in the inauguration of the winter season of fights.

The management of the big steel bull ring has gone ahead with its plans for bringing to Mexico the best matadors obtainable this year—Machiquito, Puntaret and Gallito—confident, apparently, that the residents of this capital, whether governed by Madero, Orozco or Zapata, will yet provide its quota of some 20,000 every Sunday to witness the skillful work of "the great Spanish toreros."

The president himself appears not to let the disturbed conditions in his country interfere greatly with his social movements and a not infrequent note in the evening papers is one telling of a picnic attended by the president and Mrs. Madero, or a banquet that was distinguished by the presence of the president.

Over one hundred cabin passengers are aboard the Oceanic Steamship liner Sierra that has sailed from San Francisco and should arrive here tonight and early Monday morning.

Adopt Plan—Wisconsin
Defeats

(Associated Press Cable)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 7.—Woman's suffrage won the greatest victory in its history in the elections last Tuesday. Three States, Oregon, Kansas and Michigan adopted amendments to their State Constitutions granting equal rights and privileges to women. In Michigan legislation to this effect was adopted at a special session of the Legislature last spring, but had to go before the people for ratification.

In Wisconsin woman's suffrage was defeated.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 7.—Complete returns from this city show that Roosevelt has carried it by a plurality of 947. It was an amazingly close race and the results were not known for some time.

The missing returns from northern precincts in the State will probably give California to Wilson by an exceedingly narrow margin.

(Associated Press Cable)

CHICAGO, Ill., November 7.—This state has gone for Wilson. It is certain from results today, by 16,000.

TOPEKA, Kan., November 7.—Wilson carries Kansas by 15,000.

CINCINNATI, O., November 7.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Col. Roosevelt, appears to have been defeated for reelection to Congress.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., November 7.—Pennsylvania has gone for Roosevelt.

FENNEL WARRING ON BLIND PIGS

Camp "2" Vineyard street was the scene of riotous revelry on October 29 at least, according to the profferance of testimony introduced at the hearing of the case of Daniel District court this morning upon a charge of selling liquor without a license.

The arrest of Hooplil was followed by his discharge, Judge Larnach failing to find sufficient evidence to convict.

According to license inspector Fennell, native wine and other liquors are openly sold at the notorious camp. He alleged that Hooplil had disposed of quantities of wine to various residents of the thickly congested district, including Hawaiians, Portuguese and Porto Ricans.

Fennell worked up a case wherein he called witnesses who declared that Hooplil had offered and received pay for wine on several occasions during the past six months.

Fennell alleged that the defendant had not engaged in any occupation for the past six months to his personal knowledge.

While the charge of selling liquor fails to stick, Fennell immediately pressed another charge, that of keeping large quantities of intoxicants on the premises, which case is to be fought out in the lower court tomorrow.
